

Tell the truth, be sincere; refrain from lying, cheating or stealing; resist social pressures to do things you think are wrong; don't betray a trust or withhold important information in relationships of trust.